The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 45-54, 66-75 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. 3943719 (Terry et al) in view of U.S. 4760705 (Yogev et al). Terry et al discloses all the claimed subject matter as set forth above in the rejection of claim 95, but does not disclose that the heating source for the coolant is a solar energy system. Yogev et al is relied upon to disclose that Yogev et al discloses a solar power plant comprising heat source 62 which can be a solar collector (lines 60-68, column 3) or a nuclear reactor, to generate power through the first loop through generator 66, indirect heat exchanger 67 is used to generate heat through the second loop including a Rankine cycle to generate electricity through low temperature turbine 72. It would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to direct coolant through a solar energy system in Terry et al instead of a nuclear reactor as taught by Yogev et al for the purpose of obtaining appropriate heat input.

Claims 45-50 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 17-23 of U.S. Patent No. 6672064. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because of the following reasons.

Art Unit: 3748

Claims 17-23 recite all the claimed subject matter in claims 45-50 of this application plus many more elements. It would have been obvious to eliminate the extra elements in US 6672064 to come up with this system for the purpose of simplifying the system.

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

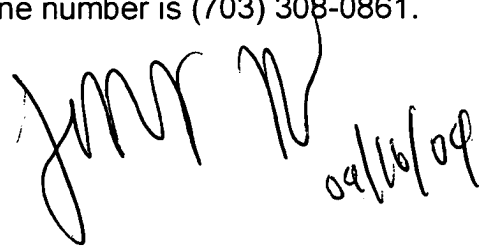

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).
